

AMY LOGAN

Executive Vice President of Development

- Amy Logan has been with Jameson since June of 1999 and has sparked many
- new initiatives not only within the marketing effort, but the overall direction of the growing organization.

She began at Jameson as director of marketing where she developed and managed company collateral and promotional materials along with products and lecture programs. During her tenure at Jameson, she has been responsible for corporate relations, special events, continuing education programs and trade show management.

Now executive vice president of development, she has expanded her duties to oversee all media, marketing and client relations along with Jameson's creative services team, while continuing to manage Jameson speaking and operational efficiencies.

Logan, a graduate of Oklahoma State University, holds a bachelor of arts in journalism and broadcasting with an emphasis in public relations. She lives in Oklahoma City and is a life member of the OSU Alumni Association, an active member of the Junior League of Oklahoma City and a member of Crossings Community Church.
