

JESS WEBBER

BS, MHA, President

- Jess Webber has been with Jameson since 2000 and currently serves as President.
- He is responsible for the management of all coaching, information technology, the United Kingdom division operations as well as financial, legal, human resources and corporate relations capacities. Within Jameson, he is a trusted professional capable of making decisions and forecasting excellent opportunities. Within the industry, he's a favorite host and business friend.

Webber graduated with a bachelor's in health from Oklahoma State University and then graduated with a master's in health administration from the University of Oklahoma. He has had extensive leadership and management training with well-respected mentors and professionals in the U.S.

Webber has worked with executives from leading companies in the industry on patient financing, financial planning, software, instrumentation and training services to develop win-win-win programs. He also helped develop an international division of the company in the United Kingdom and currently pursues endeavors for the Caribbean group. He was promoted from Executive Vice President of Operations to President of Jameson in December of 2007.

Webber enjoys fly fishing, spending time with friends and family at home, reading, studying art and listening to music.

"Jess simply gets it done. When a decision needs to be made or a number needs to be crunched or there are decisions that haven't landed on a given to-do list yet, he finds a way to reign everything in to a manageable realm and keep the firm moving in a forward, positive direction." —Amy Logan, Executive Vice President, Jameson
