

John H. Jameson, DDS

CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD

John H. Jameson, DDS, writes for numerous dental publications and provides research for manufacturers and marketing companies, as well as lecturing around the world on technology's integration into the dental practice and leadership. He also manages the technology phase of the coaching program carried out by Jameson consultants around the world.

Jameson is a 1970 graduate of Oklahoma State University where he received a bachelors degree in zoology. He received his doctor of dental surgery degree from Creighton University School of Dentistry in Omaha, Nebraska in 1974. While at Creighton, Jameson served three years as class president, student body president and as a member of the Health Sciences Curriculum Revision Committee. He was installed into Omicron Kappa Upsilon dental honor fraternity. Since graduation, he has served on the Alumni Advisory Council for the Creighton University School of Dentistry. He served as chairman for this organization and now is an emeritus member.

Jameson is also a member of the Pierre Fauchard Academy. As a member of the Oklahoma Dental Association (ODA), Jameson is past chairman of National Children's Dental Health Month and is past chairman of the ODA Sub-Council on Communication. He also chaired a special task force in public relations for the group. In 1990, he received the Robert K. Wynne Award for outstanding work in public relations for Oklahoma. He is also the 1992 Alumni Merit Award recipient for the Creighton University School of Dentistry. In 1997, Jameson was awarded the Thomas Jefferson Award for Citizenship from the ODA. Jameson served as president of his local Kiwanis Club. He has also received the Distinguished Alumni Award from Oklahoma State University.

"John is the dental technology guru. He's been in tons of practices; worked with every kind of technology known to dentists. He has practiced dentistry, lectured, coached, mentored and researched dental issues for years. He is an expert we can all learn from," - Dr. Shannon Griffin, Edmond, Oklahoma