JAMESON COACH

Shannon Griffin, DMD, coaches all dental teams, but often coordinates projects for the Jameson Launch program, designed specifically for those starting a new practice from scratch. These Launch clients may be composed of experienced dental teams looking to build a new office or of recent dental school graduates planning to start out with a new practice plan of their own.

Dr. Griffin studied dentistry at Tufts University School of Dental Medicine in Boston and continued her practical dental education in the Advanced Education in General Dentistry Residency at the University Of Oklahoma College Of Dentistry. During her time at the University of Oklahoma, she advanced her dental education in implants and she had the opportunity to meet and know John and Cathy Jameson. She then joined Dr. John H. Jameson's dental practice in Wynnewood, Oklahoma as an associate before choosing to open her own practice closer to home.

Griffin is a general dentist in private practice, a part-time clinical instructor in the Advanced Education in General Dentistry Residency program at the University of Oklahoma College of Dentistry and a regular guest lecturer at the Tufts University School of Dental Medicine. She also finds time to be a devoted wife and mother of two and occasionally serves as dentist to the wild animals (including lions) at the Oklahoma City Zoo. She believes any dentist can have the type of practice they desire and she knows her teaching of the Jameson method can lead you to reach those goals.

"Shannon Griffin has played a pivotal role in helping me and my team build clinical and business systems which have, in turn, helped increase productivity and boost moral while decreasing total days worked. She has made my dental career and personal life more enjoyable. I now have the time and energy and pursue all things that are important to me," —Bryan Lyons, DMD, Billerica, Massachusetts
